Energy Investors

These wealthy energy investors should be happy!

With the current upward movement in energy stocks, investors on this list should be in a great mood and looking for new and exciting investment opportunities—as these and other related markets continue their bull run.

The fact is, these investors are actively aware of the geopolitical and economic events that have created the current energy bull market. Plus, they are keeping their eyes and ears open for new places to invest their earnings.

And they have a great history as responders

These investors are financial newsletter subscribers with an interest in small or micro cap stocks in energy markets.

What's more, they're investors with a history of responding to direct mail campaigns for aggressive investments and are subscribers to a global energy newsletter.

Response opportunities that extend well beyond investing

Finally, in addition to investing, these prospects are active seniors, age 55 and older, who have an investment portfolio of well over $250,000.

Therefore, we recommend this list for a variety of uses: all financial and investment offers, health and fitness, leisure and travel, online banking, online investing, home office equipment and supplies, financial newsletters, books and magazines, catalog offers and more.
